A New Vision for Mahadevi:

Mahadevi, a 63-year-old homemaker from Sangreshakoppa, had been silently struggling with poor vision for nearly eight years. Along with blurred sight, she experienced a constant burning sensation in her eyes, especially when stepping outside. Coming from a large family of ten members with limited financial resources, seeking proper medical treatment was never an option for her.

Her deteriorating vision made daily chores and basic activities increasingly difficult, forcing her to depend on others and limiting her independence. Despite the challenges, she continued to endure her condition due to financial constraints.

Hope arrived when Mahadevi learned about a free eye camp. She attended the camp, where doctors diagnosed her with cataract. With the support of the Vision Foundation of India, the donor, and Jayapriya Medical Foundation, she received free cataract surgery on 26th March 2026.

The results were life-changing. Her vision improved significantly, and the persistent burning sensation reduced. Today, Mahadevi can see clearly, manage her daily activities independently, and live with renewed confidence.

She expressed deep gratitude towards the doctors, hospital staff, and the supporting organizations for restoring her vision and bringing light back into her life.
